Uproar the Helpful Bull

(Book 1 in the Farm Grandma Tales series)

Uproar the bull wants to help his friend the Farmer. Surely a BIG bull with LARGE muscles can find some way to help the Farmer with his work. Uproar comes up with a plan. But will his plan really help the Farmer?

(excerpts from 40 pages with 17 illustrations)

Uproar is a friendly bull. Looking at him you might not think so. He has big horns and lots of large muscles.

Uproar loves the Farmer and the Farmer loves Uproar. Uproar is so happy when the Farmer scratches the bull's back and shoulders. He loves the fresh hay the Farmer brings him. Sometimes when Uproar has been especially good, the Farmer brings him sweet grain. That is his favorite.

When Uproar isn't eating or taking naps in the warm sunshine, he is watching the Farmer working hard.

"I love the Farmer," snorts the bull. "He is my best friend. I would like to help the Farmer with his work so he can come and take naps with me in the warm sunshine."
